

Investigating impaired drivers:
Law professionals guide
Gregory Wm. Koturbash

Gregory Koturbash, a Crown attorney with 18 years experience dealing with Canadian impaired driver laws, has written a book that is a cop's dream come true. Investigating Impaired Drivers is up-to-date and well written, researched, referenced and indexed.

It is comprehensive and, most of all, portable.

This book certainly shows well and is a great reference for any police officer, attorney or (dare I say it) judge who must work in this field. The book's opening index of chapters is designed to answer questions in a chronological order of the typical drinking driver event. Chapter one deals with report writing and police notes. The next 45 pages are divided into 19 topics of appropriate note writing and reports to submit. The next chapter "The hunt" has a sub chapter title in the form of a question – "How can I find an impaired driver?"

Chapter three deals with "The vehicle stop" and once again each sub-section deals with a typical question someone might ask about this procedure. "What grounds do I need to stop a vehicle?" The reader is then taken through 28 chapters of Q&A's on the subject. If you must take away a citizen's rights you might as well learn how to do it right. This book will show you how to do just that.

The language and flow of the narrative is easy to read and technical jargon is either kept to a minimum or clearly explained. The book is also designed in a compact 6X8 size with 364 pages (read a page a day and take one day off for Christmas to arrest an impaired driver) and will fit neatly into a brief case or backpack.

This is a must-have book... and you can take that from a 20-year traffic cop. It will not disappoint.

Contact Greg Koturbash at 250-832-5262 or www.gregkoturbash.com.

TRU: Tactics and rescue unit
-The last resort in policing
Andrew Maksymchuk

From its humble beginnings in 1975, the Ontario Provincial Police Tactics and Rescue Unit developed to become one of Canada's top high-risk police response units. Andrew Maksymchuk, an initial member of this elite squad, has now authored a biography about the team's origins, training and development.

OPP Commissioner Harold Graham created TRU after a hostage-taking incident proved members were poorly prepared. In this book Mak candidly shares intimate aspects of his life and career, at times with humour.

Maksymchuk covers his eight-year association with TRU as one of the unit's pioneers and first full-time coordinator. He takes the reader on a very personal journey through the selection process and initial training with military instructors on Canadian Forces bases. He provides a first-hand account of actual tactical responses to hostage-takings, fortified suspects and the step-by-step arrest of a barricaded cop killer. This book takes the reader on a page-turning trip as surviving police officers describe being shot or shot at. It also shares the heart-wrenching pain and family grief for those who didn't survive.

Following on the style of Mak's previous book "From Muskeg to Murder" the reader will find an entertaining writing style that engages their attention to the end.

Contact General Store Publishing House at www.gsph.com or Andrew at oppmax@shaw.ca

For more books available to the law enforcement industry see page 39 or visit www.blueline.ca

Humber College in partnership with Penn State Justice and Safety Institute
presents

High-Impact Supervision (HIS)

Professional development workshop designed for new and aspiring supervisors in the areas of policing, private security and other public safety sectors

Intensive, Interactive 3-Day Workshop

November 7-9, 2011
Humber Lakeshore Campus
3199 Lake Shore Blvd. W.
Toronto, ON M8V 1K8

REGISTER NOW AS SEATING IS LIMITED

Workshop delivered by current practitioners and recently retired executives

"This professional development opportunity will prepare first-line supervisors to meet the challenge of the 'critical shift' into a supervisory position."

For further details visit www.communityservices.humber.ca
Call 416.675.5000 to register for CRIM001 01
Fee: $350.00 for 3 days (does not include lunch)

FREEZE it

Call Henry's for the latest photo, video and digital equipment.

Commercial Sales Department
Real World Imaging Solutions

- Shop over the phone Mon-Fri 8am-6pm E.S.T.
- Fast, convenient and economical shipping anywhere in Canada
- Purchase orders or purchasing cards accepted
- Use www.henrys.com as your on-line catalogue and call us for preferred Commercial pricing on select items

Email us for fast quotes at commercial@henrys.com

Toll Free Phone 1.800.461.7960
Toll Free Fax 1.800.645.6431
Email commercial@henrys.com
Visit us online at www.henrys.com

photo • video • digital